Through the Looking Glass:

The Legacy of Florence Nightingale in the Time of Covid:

VACCINE MANDATES, EXEMPTIONS, TERMINATION, STAFFING SHORTAGES, DIVERSION AND CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS 1

Ansley S. Westbrook II, Esq. OGC Law, LLC Pittsburgh, PA awestbrook@ogclaw.net

Objectives

- Consider the nurse in recovery who most reflects the Florence Nightingale Pledge, yet is abandoned by the very healthcare system she seeks to serve.
- Consider the legal and regulatory systems that create staffing shortages through termination, criminal prosecution, vaccine mandates, rejection of exemptions and failure to accommodate.

- ▶ We are certain that our intelligence, backed by willpower, can rightly control our inner lives and guarantee us success in the world we live in. This brave philosophy, wherein each man plays God, sounds good in the speaking, but it still has to meet the acid test: how well does it actually work?
- Everywhere he sees people filled with anger and fear, society breaking up into warring fragments. Each fragment says to the others, "We are right and you are wrong." Every such pressure group, if it is strong enough, self-righteously imposes its will upon the rest. And everywhere the same thing is being done on an individual basis. The sum of all this mighty effort is less peace and less brotherhood than before. The philosophy of self-sufficiency is not paying off. Plainly enough, it is a bone-crushing juggernaut whose final achievement is ruin.

Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions

The Florence Nightingale Pledge provides, in part: I solemnly pledge myself before God to pass my life in purity, to practice my profession faithfully and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. In this session, we will explore the Florence Nightingale Pledge in the context of the legalisms of our society and healthcare systems today, resulting in staffing shortages, workplace frustration and challenges to nurses and facilities in providing care to the sick and compassion to families who are suffering with their loved ones.

Who was Florence Nightingale?

- Daughter of a privileged British couple, Frances Smith and William Edward Nightingale.
- In 1837 when she was 16, she had a major epiphany and sense of calling, inspired by the works of Congregational minister, Jacob Abbot.
- She spent several months working in the service of disadvantaged people, unsure of what purpose her calling led to, but moved by her religious feelings to act.

Travels and Education

- ▶ As Florence travelled extensively, it brought her to the path of people who would inspire her to listen to 'God's voice' and help her channel her calling to serve.
- She met Roman Catholic nun, Laure de Ste. Columbe in Rome.
- ▶ In Athens, she met a missionary named Mary Baldwin.
- ► Her travels also brought her the friendship of Mrs. Hill, an American missionary, and the acquaintance of Sidney Herbert.

Kaiserswerth Deaconess Institute Germany 1850-1851

- ▶ Founded by Lutheran minister, Theador Fliedner in October, 1836.
- ▶ Pastor Fliedner was moved by the works of Protestant Mennonites and Moravians, as well as the ideas of Elizabeth Fry (a British, Quaker philanthropist pivotal to prison reform) toward organizing women in the aiding of needy people in society, such as orphans, the poor and the sick.
- ▶Young ladies would learn the skills necessary towards the accomplishment of that practical brad of spiritual service.
- ▶Florence was here as a probationer (a student) from July-October 1851.
- ▶In 1853 she traveled to France and received further immersion into the life of nursing moved by spirituality.

Crimean War (1853-1856)

CONSIDERED BY MANY HISTORIANS AS 'THE FIRST MODERN WAR.'

Wartime Nurse

- ▶ In October 1854, then Secretary of State, Sidney Herbert, whose acquaintance Florence Nightingale made in her travels, wrote to her seeking help for the soldiers' situation in the Crimea.
- Nightingale organized Roman Catholic Sisters; Anglican Sisters; and nurses from different homes and hospitals across the country.
- She spent a year and a half in the warzone, and reportedly returned home only once the conflict came to a resolution in 1856.
- The Crimean War had helped Florence Nightingale find her calling and her voice.
- ► The conditions and experiences of her nursing work in the Crimea were after all, traumatic by most accounts – 20hour workdays, literally miles of beds about 20-inches apart, filled by a steady stream of sick and injured soldiers.

In 1856 she was a hero and a paragon of the ideal Victorian. She was a symbol of morality, hard work, industry and courage. She had humility and modesty. She was a patriot. She was a well-bred and a feminine caregiver and nurturer, but also had intellect and grit. She had the respect and gratitude of many men for her deeds, and the admiration of women for the example she set and the boundaries she pushed through for them to learn and find respectable, fulfilling work.

Later Struggles

- After her return from the Crimea, the bulk of her struggles apparently related to her health.
- ▶ In 1861 she became gravely ill and unable to walk. By 1867 she was having difficulties concentrating.
- One by one she lost her family as she was burdened with helping to manage their care. Her father died in 1874, her mother in 1880, and her sister in 1890.
- ▶ By 1896 she would be bedridden for the rest of her life. In 1902 she lost the ability to read and write and by February, 1910, she was no longer able to speak.
- She would die a few months later, on August 13, 1910.

Florence Nightingale to Her Nurses

- ▶ We have three judges-our God, our neighbour, and ourselves. Our own judgement of ourselves is, perhaps, generally too favourable: our neighbour's judgement of us too unfavourable.... Shall we always remember to seek God's judgement of us, knowing this, that it will some day find us, whether we seek it or not? He knows who is His nurse, and who is not.
- ▶ It is not to feel that we desire really nothing for ourselves in our Nursing life, present and future, but only this, "Thy will be done," as we say in our daily prayer? Is it not trust Him, that His will is really the best for each one of us?

- ▶ And may I say a thing from my own experience? No training is of any use, unless one can learn (1) to feel, and (2) to think out things for oneself. And if we have not true religious feeling and purpose, Hospital life the highest of all things with these without them becomes a mere routine and bustle, and a very hardening routine and bustle.
- For prayer is communion or co-operation with God: the expression of a life among his poor and sick and erring ones. But when we speak with God, our power of addressing Him, of holding communion with Him, and listening to His still small voice, depends upon our will being one and the same with His.

- ▶ Do we ever do things because they are right, without regard of our own credit? When we ask ourselves only "What is right?" or (which is the same question), "What is the will of God?" then we are truly entering His "kingdom." We are no longer groveling among the opinions of men and women.
- ▶ And the highest "authority" which a woman especially can attain among her fellow women must come from her doing God's work here in the same spirit, and with the same thoroughness, that Christ did, though we follow him but "afar off."

Amid Pandemic, Hospitals Lay Off 1.4M Workers in April

npr May 10, 2020

An estimated 1.4 million healthcare workers lost their jobs in April. It's an ironic twist that as the COVID-19 pandemic spreads across the country, hospitals aren't making much money

Hospitals have experienced financial challenges as a result of the pandemic. They are no longer performing elective procedures.

HEALTHCARE LOST HALF A MILLION WORKERS SINCE 2020

October 12, 2021

- Since mid-February 2020, nearly 1 in 5 healthcare workers, or 18 percent, have quit their jobs, according to poll results from Morning Consult, a global privately held data intelligence company.
- ▶ Additionally, some workers have been fired or resigned over the vaccination mandates.

AONL COVID-19 Longitudinal Study

August 2021 Report:

Nurse Leaders' Top Challenges, Emotional Health, and Areas of Needed Support, July 2020 to August 2021

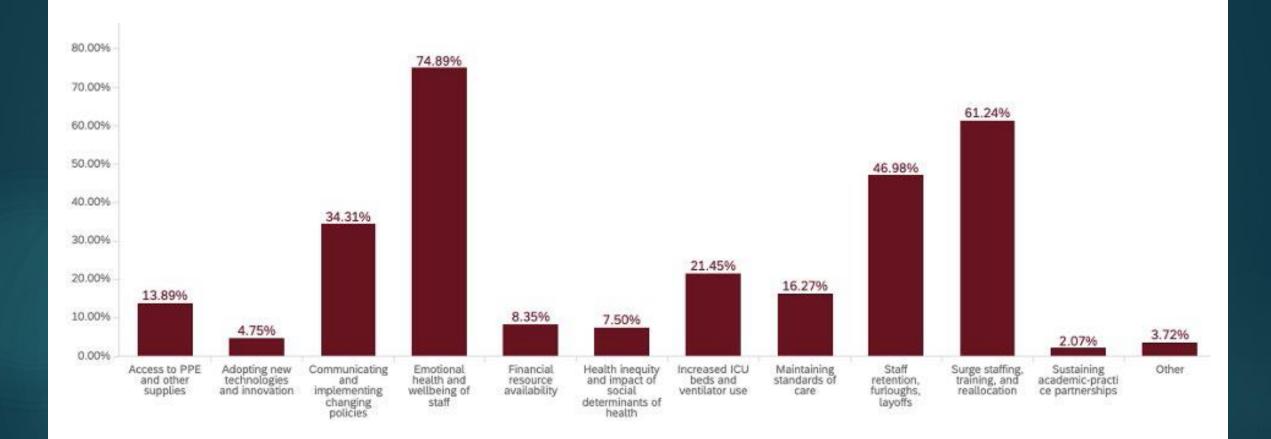

Over one year, the American Organization for Nursing Leadership (AONL) and Joslin Marketing partnered to conduct a longitudinal study on the impact of COVID-19 on nursing leadership. The study was launched in three series: July 2020, February 2021, and August 2021. The recent findings reveal new changes to nurse leaders' primary challenges and critical data concerning staffing shortages and nurse leader well-being Respondent Profile: AONL fielded the survey to nurse leaders at all levels across the care continuum.

AONL COVID-19 Longitudinal Study August 2021 Report I AONL & Joslin Marketing © 2021

TOP CHALLENGES DURING THE PANDEMIC: THEN AND NOW

In July 2020, 54% of respondents said communicating and implementing changing policies was a top challenge. Over the course of one year this has improved steadily. Today, only 34% of respondents selected it as a top challenge, a 37% decrease. Similarly, the challenge of personal protective equipment (PPE) and other supplies dropped from 46% to 14%, a 70% decrease. Conversely, the emotional health and well-being of staff has become an ever greater problem. In July 2020, 50% of nurse leaders selected it as a top challenge. In just the past year, that number has increased with 75% of respondents selecting it as a top challenge, a 50% increase. Also alarming is staff retention, furloughs, and layoffs. In July 2020, 24% of nurse leaders identified it as a challenge. Today, that number has increased by 96%, with 47% of nurse leaders now selecting it as a top challenge.

EMOTIONAL HEALTH & WELL-BEING WORSENS FOR ALL ROLES

The most alarming statistic concerns the emotional health of nurse leaders, which is dropping at a critical rate. As of August 2021, 25% of nurse leaders say they are not emotionally healthy. Managers, specifically, tend towards emotional distress. In February, 24% indicated they were not or not at all emotionally healthy.

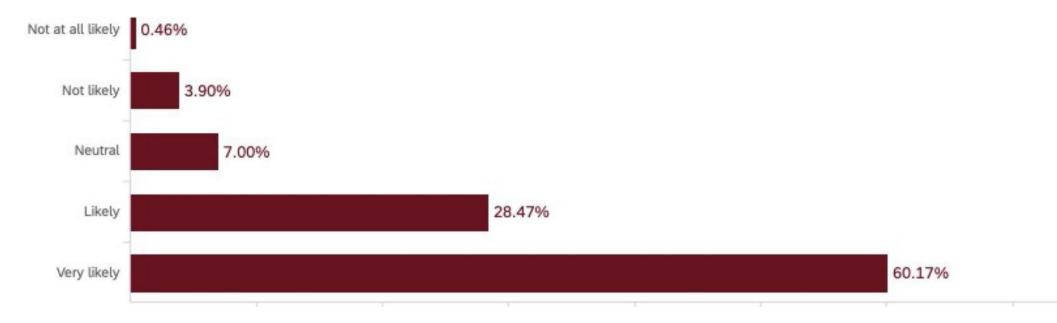

Nurse leaders rate their current emotional health, August 2021

INTENT TO LEAVE NURSING AS A RESULT OF THE PANDEMIC GROWS

- ▶ The February 2021 survey findings provided room for hope as 90% of nurse leaders said they would not leave nursing due to COVID-19.
- ▶ The August 2021 data reveals a negative trend. As of today, 80% of nurse leaders say they intend to stay in nursing, down 10 percentage points over only six months.

90% OF NURSE LEADERS ANTICIPATE A STAFFING SHORTAGE POST PANDEMIC

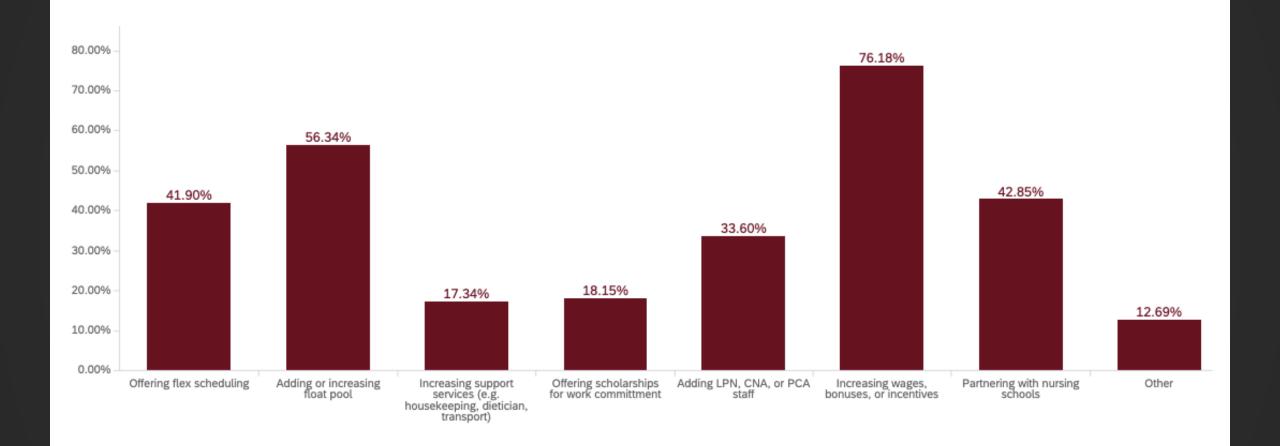

To understand the full extent of the staffing shortage problem and future projections, we asked nurse leaders to indicate how likely their organization is to experience a staffing shortage following the pandemic. The findings were some of the most dramatic in terms of trends since February 2021. Most significant, however, was the increase in respondent who said a staffing shortage is very likely. This number increased by 165%, jumping from 23% to 60% over six months. Overall, 90% of nurse leaders expect a staffing shortage post pandemic.

HOW NURSE LEADERS ARE ADDRESSING THE STAFFING SHORTAGE

76% of respondents selected increased wages, bonuses, or incentives. This was followed by 56% adding or increasing float pools, 43% partnering with nursing schools, and 42% offering flex scheduling. Another, 34% said they have considered or implemented adding licensed practical nurse, certified nursing assistant, or patient care assistant staff.

Retail pharmacy counters have been compared to fast-food counters. Orders typically come in so quickly that these pharmacists don't take a lunch break. A recent study of practicing pharmacists found that more than 68% experienced job stress and role overload. Uncertainty about continuing employment, heavy workload, long hours, and short staffing are significant stressors.

Not only did drunkenness cause a "temporary fit of madness," but habitual drunkenness was itself kind of insanity. Rush described habitual drunkenness as a chronic and relapsing disease. Rush's was the clearest statement up to that point that habitual drunkenness was a disease unto itself.

An Inquiry into the Effects of Ardent Spirits upon the Human Body

- "Addiction Is a Brain Disease, and It Matters." Published in 1997 by Alan Leshner, director of the National Institute on Drug Abuse.
- ▶ Leshner argued that two decades of studies, from meticulous molecular characterizations of neurotransmitters and receptors to the relatively new science of brain imaging, had established that the brains of addicted people were different from those of others. A single common neurobiological pathway was disordered in all cases of drug addiction.

Disease

Merriam-Webster Definitions

1: a condition of the living animal or plant body or of one of its parts that impairs normal functioning and is typically manifested by distinguishing signs and symptoms: SICKNESS, MALADY;

2: a harmful development (as in a social institution)

Recovery

Merriam-Webster Definitions

- 1: the act or process of becoming healthy after an illness or injury
- 2: the act or process of returning to a normal state after a period of difficulty
- 3: the return of something that has been lost, stolen, etc.

Twelve Steps

- We admitted we were powerless over alcohol-that our lives had become unmanageable.
- Came to believe that a Power greater than ourselves could restore us to sanity.
- 3. Made a decision to turn our will and our lives over to the care of God as we understood Him.
- 4. Made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.
- 5. Admitted to God, to ourselves, and to another human being the exact nature of our wrongs.
- 6. Were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.

- 7. Humbly asked Him to remove our shortcomings.
- 8. Made a list of all persons we had harmed, and became willing to made amends to them all.
- 9. Made direct amends to such people wherever possible, except when to do so would injure them or others.
- 10. Continued to take personal inventory and when we were wrong promptly admitted it.
- 11. Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood Him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.
- 12. Having had a spiritual awakening as the result of these steps, we tried to carry this message to alcoholics, and to practice these principles in all our affairs.

Groping Toward God

"More than most people, I think, alcoholics want to know who they are, what this life is about, whether they have a divine origin and an appointed destiny, and whether there is a system of cosmic justice and love.

"It is the experience of many of us in the early stages of drinking to feel that we have had glimpses of the Absolute and a heightened feeling of identification with the cosmos. While these glimpses and feelings doubtless have a validity, they are deformed and finally swept away in the chemical, spiritual, and emotional damage wrought by the alcohol itself.

"In A.A., and in many religious approaches, alcoholics find a great deal more of what they merely glimpsed and felt while trying to grope their way toward God in alcohol."

Warner v. Orange County Department of Probation

United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit

September 9, 1996

The drunk driver was convicted of his third drunk driving offense within a year. The county probation department recommended, in accordance with its established policy in drunk driving cases, that he attend A.A. meetings as a condition of probation. The sentencing judge imposed the condition. The drunk driver complained after a while that the meetings were too "religious" for him. They prayed at every meeting. Spirituality and belief in a higher power were stressed. The drunk driver claimed to be an atheist. The court held that the condition of probation violated the First Amendment's establishment of religion clause. The drunk driver was coerced into religious activity and was not offered a non-religious alternative treatment for his drinking problem.

OFFICE OF INSPECTOR GENERAL

WASHINGTON, DC 2020

JAN 29 2016

Dear :

RE: OI File Number

This is to notify you that you are being excluded from participation in any capacity in the Medicare, Medicaid, and all Federal health care programs as defined in section 1128B(f) of the Social Security Act (Act) for a minimum period of 3 years. The Act defines a Federal health care program as any plan or program that provides health benefits, whether directly, through insurance, or otherwise, which is funded directly, in whole or in part, by the United States Government (except the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program). State health care programs are defined in section 1128(h) and include plans and programs under titles XIX, V, XX and XXI of the Act. The scope of this exclusion is broad and has a significant effect on your ability to work in the health care field.

This action is being taken under section 1128(b)(1) of the Act and is effective 20 days from the date of this letter. See 42 U.S.C. 1320a-7(b), 42 C.F.R. 1001.201. This exclusion is due to your conviction as defined in section 1128(i) (42 U.S.C. 1320a-7(i)) of the Act, in the Court of Common Pleas of County, Pennsylvania, of a misdemeanor offense related to fraud, theft, embezzlement, breach of fiduciary responsibility, or other financial misconduct in connection with the delivery of any health care item or service, including the performance of management or administrative services relating to the delivery of such items or services, or with respect to any act or omission in a health care program, other than Medicare and a State health care program, operated by, or financed in whole or in part by, any Federal, State or local Government agency or of a criminal offense related to fraud, theft, embezzlement, breach of fiduciary responsibility, or other financial misconduct with respect to any act or omission in a program, other than a health care program, operated by or financed in whole or in part by any Federal, State or local Government agency.

This exclusion will affect your ability to claim payment from these programs for items or services that you render; it will NOT affect your right to collect benefits under any Federal health care program such as Medicare, Medicaid, or Social Security. You may find more information regarding exclusions on the Office of Inspector General's (OIG) website, including Frequently Asked Questions and the Special Advisory Bulletin about the Effect of Exclusion. To access this site, go to http://oig.hhs.gov.click.on/exclusions/ DATABASE, and then choose the item you would like to access.

A detailed explanation of the authority for this exclusion, its effect, and your appeal rights is enclosed and is incorporated as part of this notice by specific reference. You should read this document carefully, act upon it as necessary, and retain it for future reference.

REINSTATEMENT IS NOT AUTOMATIC. You must apply to the OIG and be granted reinstatement. Obtaining a provider number from a Medicare contractor, a State agency, or a Federal health care program does not reinstate your eligibility to participate in those programs.

Sincerely,

Reviewing Official

COVID-19

Is there any Nurse here who is a Pharisee? This seems a very cruel and unjust question. We think of the Pharisees, when we read the terrible denunciation of them by our Master, as a small, peculiar, antiquated sect of 2000 years ago. Are they not rather the least peculiar, the most widely-spread people of every time? I am sure I often ask myself, sadly enough, "Am I a Pharisee?" In this sense: Am I, or am I not, doing this with a single eye to God's work, to serving Him and my neighbour. Or am I doing it because I identify my selfish self with the work, and in so doing serve myself and not God? If so, then I am the Pharisee.

Baptist and the Pharisees.

Humility – to think our own life worth nothing except as serving in a corps, God's nursing corps, unflinching obedience, steadiness, and endurance in carrying out His work – that is true discipline, that is true greatness, and may God give it to us Nurses, and make us His own Nurses.

On September 9, 2021, President Biden announced "a new plan to require more Americans to be vaccinated." Remarks on the COVID-19 Response and National Vaccination Efforts, 2021 Daily Comp. of Pres. Doc. 775, p. 2. As part of that plan, the President said that the Department of Labor would issue an emergency rule requiring all employers with at least 100 employees "to ensure their workforces are fully vaccinated." Ibid. The purpose of the rule was to increase vaccination rates at "businesses all across America." Ibid. The administration's goal was to impose "vaccine requirements" on "about 100 million Americans, two-thirds of all workers." Id., at 3.

After a 2-month delay, the Secretary of Labor issued the promised emergency standard. 86 Fed. Reg. 61402 (2021). Consistent with President Biden's announcement, the rule applies to all who work for employers with 100 or more employees.

Unvaccinated employees who do not comply with OSHA's rule must be "removed from the workplace." Id.

States, businesses, and nonprofit Many organizations challenged OSHA's rule in Courts of Appeals across the country. The Fifth Circuit initially entered a stay. But when the cases were consolidated before the Sixth Circuit, that court lifted the stay and allowed OSHA's rule to take effect. Applicants now seek emergency relief from this Court, arguing that OSHA's mandate exceeds its statutory authority and is otherwise unlawful. Agreeing that applicants are likely to prevail, we grant their applications and stay the rule.

The question, then, is whether the Act plainly authorizes the Secretary's mandate. It does not. The Act empowers the Secretary to set workplace safety standards, not broad public health measures.

Although COVID-19 is a risk that occurs in many workplaces, it is not an occupational hazard in most.

ON APPLICATIONS FOR STAYS

[January 13, 2022]

The Secretary of Health and Human Services administers the Medicare and Medicaid programs, which provide health insurance for millions of elderly, disabled, and low-income Americans. In November 2021, the Secretary announced that, in order to receive Medicare or Medicaid funding, participating facilities must ensure that their staff—unless exempt for medical or religious reasons—are vaccinated against COVID-19. 86 Fed. Reg. 61555 (2021). Two District Courts enjoined enforcement of the rule, and the Government now asks us to stay those injunctions. Agreeing that it is entitled to such relief, we grant the applications.

The Secretary issued the rule after finding that vaccination of healthcare workers against COVID-19 was "necessary for the health and safety of individuals to whom care and services are furnished." Id., at 61561. In many facilities, 35% or more of staff remain unvaccinated, id., at 61559, and those staff, the Secretary explained, pose a serious threat to the health and safety of patients.

First, we agree with the Government that the Secretary's rule falls within the authorities that Congress has conferred upon him.

Congress has authorized the Secretary to impose conditions on the receipt of Medicaid and Medicare funds that "the Secretary finds necessary in the interest of the health and safety of individuals who are furnished services." U. S. C. §1395x(e)(9).*

What are the rules on Vaccine Exemptions?

Every state has laws that require children to get certain vaccines before they can go to school or day care. Yet parents can opt out of one or more vaccines for medical, religious, or personal reasons.

Vaccine exemption laws vary from state to state. Some states make it easier to avoid vaccines than others.

https://www.webmd.com/children/vaccines/what-are-the-rules-on-vaccine-exemptions

What are medical exemptions?

Parents can ask for a medical exemption if a vaccine wouldn't be safe for their child. Reasons that children can get an exemption include:

- They have a disease or take medicine that weakens their immune system.
- They have a severe allergy to a vaccine or an ingredient in it.
- They had a serious reaction to a vaccine in the past.

To get a medical exemption, parents need to have their child's doctor sign a form. Many states ask whether the exemption is temporary or permanent. And almost half of states require doctors to sign a new form every year or so.

What are Religious Exemptions?

This allows parents to opt their child out of vaccines based on their religious beliefs.

The view of Catholicism

The most morally questionable issue regarding vaccination in Catholicism is using cell lines derived from a voluntary aborted fetus. The Moral Reflection On Vaccines published by the Pontifical Academy for Life suggests that these vaccines should be avoided and proposes a search for alternatives.

Protestant View

Protestantism accentuates individual freedom and gives parents the right to decide whether to vaccinate their children or not. According to Ruijs, Orthodox Protestant parent who refuse vaccination on religious grounds claim that vaccination is an act of interfering with divine providence.

Jewish view

The distinguished religious Jewish organization, the Orthodox Union "strongly urges all parents to vaccinate their healthy children on the timetable recommended by their pediatricians"

Islamic view

According to Islamic tradition, vaccination serves to protect life, to respect the principle of preventing harm (izalat aldharar), and public interest (maslahat alummah).

Buddhist view

Buddhism claims that life is one, which means that all forms of life are essentially related to another and share a common essence.

In order to reach this Nirvana, every Buddhist must carefully observe the 8-fold Path and the Ten Precepts that help prevent any accumulation of karma. These precepts include: not taking life, not stealing being chaste, not lying, not drinking intoxicants. But according to the essential teaching of Buddhism, if the vaccine is derived from any life form its use is debatable.

Fetal Cells

In early development of mRNA vaccine technology the Pfizer and Moderna COVID vaccines used aborted fetal cells for "proof of concept" or to characterize the SARS-CoV-2 spike protein. The non-replicating viral vector vaccine produced by Johnson & Johnson required the use of aborted fetal cell cultures to produce and manufacture the vaccine.

What are Personal or Philosophical Objections?

This exemption is based on parents' personal beliefs about vaccines. Some parents are concerned about vaccine safety.

CODE OF MEDICAL ETHICS OPINION 2.1.1

Informed consent to medical treatment is fundamental in both ethics and law. Patients have the right to receive information and ask questions about recommended treatments so that they can make well-considered decisions about care. Successful communication in the patient-physician relationship fosters trust and support shared decision making.

The process of informed consent occurs when communication between a patient and physician results in the patient's authorization or agreement to undergo a specific medical intervention. In seeking a patient's informed consent (or the consent of the patient's surrogate if the patient lacks decision making capacity or declines to participate in making decisions), physicians should:

- (a) Assess the patient's ability to understand relevant medical information and the implications of treatment alternatives and to make an independent, voluntary decision.
- (b) Present relevant information accurately and sensitively, in keeping with the patient's preferences for receiving medical information. The physician should include information about:
  - 1. The diagnosis (when known)
  - 2. The nature and purpose of recommended interventions
  - 3. The burdens, risks, and expected benefits of all options, including forgoing treatment
- (c) Document the informed consent conversation and the patient's (or surrogate's) decision in the medical record in some manner. When the patient/surrogate has provided specific written consent, the consent from should be included in the record.

Search Results

From the 9/3/2021 release of VAERS data:

Found 675,593 cases where Vaccine is COVID19

Table

→	↑ ↓
Event Outcome	Count	Percent
Death	14,506	2.15%
Permanent Disability	18,439	2.73%
Office Visit	106,183	15.72%

California Assembly Bill (AB 2098) 2021-2022 Regular Session

Physicians and surgeons: unprofessional conduct

ABSTRACT

This bill would designate the dissemination or promotion of misinformation or disinformation related to the SARS-CoV-2 coronavirus, or "COVID-19," as unprofessional conduct. The bill would require the board to consider specified factors prior to bringing a disciplinary action against a physician and surgeon. The bill would also make findings and declarations in this regard.

What are the qualities which give us authority, which enable us to exercise some charge or control over others with "authority"? It is not the charge or position itself, for we often see persons in a position of authority, who have no authority at all; and on the other hand we sometimes see persons in the very humblest position who exercise a great influence or authority on all around them. The very first element for having control over others is, of course, to have control over oneself.

For the obedience of intelligence, not the obedience of slavery, is what we want. The slave obeys with stupid obedience, with deceitful evasion of service, or with careless eye service. Now, we cannot suppose God to be satisfied or pleased with stupidity and carelessness. The free woman is Christ obeys, or rather seconds all the rules, all the orders given her, with intelligence, with all her heart, and with all her strength, and with all her mind.

When we obey all God's laws as to cleanliness, fresh air, pure water, good habits, good dwelling, good drains, food and drink, work and exercise, health is the result. When we disobey, sickness. 110,000 lives are needlessly sacrificed every year in this kingdom by our disobedience, and 220,000 people are needlessly sick all the year around. And why? Because we will not know, will not obey God's simple Health laws.

No epidemic can resist through cleanliness and fresh air.
